

Carol Schindler

Creative Director, Corporate Trainer, Director of Corporate Meetings, Speech Coach, Comedy Writer and Performer

973-285-9305 973-723-1886 Cas84@earthlink.net
24 Skyline Drive, Morristown, New Jersey 07960

- 2006–2008 IDOLOGY, Training Consultancy, New York, NY. Senior Coach and Account Manager
- Taught leadership programs and presentation skills to corporate executives, including specialized programs on personal branding, courage, confidence, effective feedback and team building
 - Developed and delivered presentations to large audiences
 - Conducted one-on-one coaching sessions for corporate directors and managing directors
 - Managed key accounts
 - Clients include: American Express, Goldman Sachs, Credit-Suisse, BP, Comcast, Avenue A Razorfish, Showtime, Fitch Ratings, Western Union, Bare Escentuals and Consumer Dynamics
- 1995–2006 Creative Training Systems, Co-founder. Using improvisational techniques I developed and customized corporate workshops specialized in improving creative thinking, team building, communications skills, being in the moment, presentations, being compelling, authenticity and creativity
- Clients include: Mars, Merck, Revlon, Mobil Oil, Weight Watchers
- 1987–2006 Freelance Creative Director, Writer, Director of Corporate Meetings. Responsible for and expert in:
- Developing creative ideas for corporate meetings
 - Proposal writing
 - Script development and writing
 - Casting
 - Stage direction for live meetings
 - Video scripts and direction
 - Speech coaching and writing for corporate executives
 - Clients included: American Express, AT&T, Canon, Coke, Dell Computers, Delta Airlines, Federal Express, Ford, Gerber, HBO, Mars, Merck, Mobil Oil, Novartis, Ramada, Revlon, Schick, Taco Bell, Weight Watchers. Full list upon request.
- 1987 "Encyclopedia," television series produced by Children's Television Workshop and HBO. Starring actress in 24 shows, still running on HBO. Reel available upon request.
- 1975–1987 Chicago City Limits, the longest running comedy show in New York City, Founding Member. Starred in this award winning improvisational comedy group. Wrote, directed and performed in over 14 reviews. Developed and conducted workshops in creative thinking, team building and improvisational techniques.
- Education: 1976-1979 Second City Workshops with Del Close
1969-1973 University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh Wisconsin, B.A., Speech Communications